Types of Questions:

a) Multiple Choice Question (M.C.Q.) as an when applicable:

- i) Relevant content: The question should be based on the relevant and important content.
- ii) Application of knowledge, not only theory: The question tests the application of knowledge, does not only test how the candidate recalls isolated theoretical facts.
- iii) Focused questions and homogeneous answers: The question focuses on one relevant aspect of the topic, all proposed answers belong to the same content dimension (i.e., diagnosis, or causes, or managements decisions etc.)
- iv) Clear and unambiguous answer: The best answer clearly stands out. Avoid "correct" answers with existing controversial doctrines.
- v) Appropriate level of difficulty (50% -90% correct answers):
 - Too difficult - even the best candidates need to guess
 - Too easy - weak candidates get a "present"
- vi) Unambiguous, concise and simple phrasing: Avoid trick questions, double negatives.
 - Use only common abbreviations, short sentences etc.
 - Avoid imprecise qualifications (often, usually etc)
- vii) Avoid clues:
 - Clues can help candidates guess the correct answer. Examples are:
 - One answer is much more detailed than the others
 - Only one answer follows grammatically from the stem •Non logical order of the answers

General Strategies :

- Test comprehension and critical thinking, not just recall :
 - Ask MCQ so as to interpret facts, evaluate situations, explain cause and effect, make inferences, and predict results.
- Use simple sentence structure and precise wording :
 - Write test questions in a simple structure that is easy to understand. And try to be as accurate as possible in your word choices. Words can have many meanings depending on colloquial usage and context.
- Use familiar language :
 - The question should use the same terminology that was used in the course. Avoid using unfamiliar expressions or foreign language terms, unless measuring knowledge of such language is one of the goals of the question. Students are likely to dismiss distracters with unfamiliar terms as incorrect.
- Place most of the words in the question stem :
 - While using a question stem, rather than an entire question, ensure that most of the words are in the stem. This way, the answer options can be short, making them less confusing and more legible.
- Avoid giving verbal association clues from the stem in the key :
 - If the key uses words that are very similar to words found in the stem, students are more likely to pick it as the correct answer.
- Avoid Trick Questions :
 - Questions should be designed so that students who know the material can find the correct answer. Questions designed to lead students to an incorrect answer, through misleading phrasing or by emphasizing an otherwise unimportant detail of the solution, violate this principle.
- Avoid Negative Wording :
 - Students often fail to observe negative wording and it can confuse them. As a result, students who are familiar with the material often make mistakes on negatively worded questions. In general, avoid having any negatives in the stem or the options. In the rare cases where you use negatives be sure to emphasize the key words by putting them in upper case, and bolding or underlining them.
- Avoid Double Negatives :
 - Don't use combinations of the words like not, no, nor, the -un prefix, etc in the same question.
- Make the choices grammatically consistent with the stem :
 - Read the stem and each of the choices aloud to make sure that they are grammatically correct.
- As far as possible, keep all answer choices of the same length :
 - This can be difficult to achieve, but expert test-takers can use answer length as a hint to the correct answer. Often the longest answer is the correct one. When one can't get all four answers to the same length, two short and two long can be used.

- Place the choices in some meaningful order :
When possible, place the choices in numerical, chronological or conceptual order. A better structured question is easier to read and respond.
- Randomly distribute the correct response :
The exam should have roughly the same number of correct answers that are a's, b's, c's and d's (assuming there are four choices per question).
- Avoid using "all of the above"
If "all of the above" is an option and students know two of the options are correct, the answer must be "all of the above". If they know one is incorrect, the answer must not be "all of the above". A student may also read the first option, determine that it is correct, and be misled into choosing it without reading all of the options.
- Avoid using "none of the above"
The option "none of the above" does not test whether the student knows the correct answer, but only that he/she knows the distracters aren't correct.
- Refrain from using words such as always, never, all, or none :
Most students know that few things are universally true or false, so distracters with these words in them can often be easily dismissed.
- Avoid overlapping choices :
Make the alternatives mutually exclusive. It should never be the case that if one of the distracters is true, another distractor must be true as well.
- Avoid questions of the form "Which of the following statements is correct?"
There is no clear question being asked, and the choices are often heterogeneous. Such questions are better presented in the form of True/ False questions.
- Instruct students to select the "best answer" rather than the "correct answer"
By doing this, you acknowledge the fact that the distracters may have an element of truth to them and discourage arguments from students who may argue that their answer is correct as well.

Designing Stems :

- Express the full problem in the stem.
When creating the item, ask yourself if the students would be able to answer the question without looking at the options. This makes the purpose of the question clear.
- Put all relevant material in the stem.
Do not repeat in each of the alternatives information that can be included in the stem. This makes options easier to read and understand, and makes it easier for students to answer the question quickly.
- Eliminate excessive wording and irrelevant information from the stem.
Irrelevant information in the stem confuses students and leads them to waste time.

Designing Alternatives :

- Limit the number of alternatives.
Use between three and five alternatives per question. Research shows that three choice items are about as effective as four or five-choice items, mainly because it is difficult to come up with plausible distracters.
- Make sure there is only one best answer.
Avoid having two or more options that are correct, but where one is "more" correct than the others. The distracters should be incorrect answers to the question posed in the stem.
- Make the distracters appealing and plausible.
All of the wrong answer choices should be completely reasonable. If the distracters are farfetched, students will too easily locate the correct answer, even if they have little knowledge. When testing for recognition of key terms and ideas keep the distracters similar in length and type of language as the correct solution. When testing conceptual understanding, distractors should represent common mistakes made by students.

b) Short Answer (SA) descriptiveMarks as Applicable)

A short answer question as the term indicate is one to which a brief answer can be given. When the students are required to give a brief and precisely defined response, the suitable type is the restricted response questions. The specific form of the answer should also be indicated, e.g., List, Define, Give reason etc.

While framing a question requiring short answer it should be ensured that:

1. The statement constituting the question is simple, clear and unambiguous.
1. The scope of the answer is limited.
2. The direction given in the question is clear.
3. The question constitutes a valid testing situation for the ability under consideration
4. The question is likely to be interpreted in the same way by teachers/ students/ examiners.
6. The question does not require further restructuring.

c) Long Answers (LA)Marks as applicable)

Long Answer (LA) :

As the term indicates a long answer question is the one that needs a comprehensive explanation incorporating different ideas. The question should require the student to organize his ideas, choose the form of his answer and answer in his own words.

While framing a question requiring a long answer it should be ensured that:

1. The situation presented in the question is not new to most of the students.
2. The student will not be able to produce in the full, memorized answer.
3. The question involves the use of judgment on the part of student.
4. The answer can be completed within the limited time given.
5. The length and the scope of the answer is specified.

Instructions to the BOS

Curriculum / syllabus shall be modified/prepare for the courses/subjects prescribed as in CBCS direction.

The Programme Educational Objectives (PEOs), Program Outcomes (POs), Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) should be well defined.

For each course of the Program, learning objectives and learning outcomes: Course Outcomes (COs) should be defined carefully in accordance with Bloom's Taxonomy.

A comprehensive note on employability potential of the program should be added separately at the Preface/Preamble of the Program Curriculum

Bloom's hierarchy takes students through a process of synthesizing information that allows them to think critically. Students start with a piece of information and are motivated to ask questions and seek out answers.

Not only does Bloom's Taxonomy help teachers understand the process of learning, but it also provides more concrete guidance on how to create effective learning objectives.

Table No. 6 Bloom's Taxonomy

Bloom's Level	Key Verbs (keywords)	Example Learning Objective
Create	design, formulate, build, invent, create, compose, generate, derive, modify, develop.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to design an original homework problem dealing with the principle of conservation of energy.
Evaluate	choose, support, relate, determine, defend, judge, grade, compare, contrast, argue, justify, support, convince, select, evaluate.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to determine whether using conservation of energy or conservation of momentum would be more appropriate for solving a dynamics problem.
Analyze	classify, break down, categorize, analyze, diagram, illustrate, criticize, simplify, associate.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to differentiate between potential and kinetic energy.
Apply	calculate, predict, apply, solve, illustrate, use, demonstrate, determine, model, perform, present.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to calculate the kinetic energy of a projectile.
Understand	describe, explain, paraphrase, restate, give original examples of, summarize, contrast, interpret, discuss.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to describe Newton's three laws of motion to in her/his own words
Remember	list, recite, outline, define, name, match, quote, recall, identify, label, recognize.	By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to recite Newton's three laws of motion.

This also reminds teachers that learning is an active process, stressing the importance of including measurable verbs in the objectives. And the clear structure of the taxonomy itself emphasizes the importance of keeping learning objectives clear and concise as opposed to vague and abstract.

OBE (Outcome Based Education) starts with a clear statement on what Knowledge, Skills and Attitudes, the Student will be able to demonstrate as having acquired on successful completion of a program of study. These should be clearly measurable.

Program Educational Objectives (PEOs):

Program educational objectives are broad statements that describe the career and professional accomplishments that the program is preparing graduates to achieve.

GRADUATE ATTRIBUTES

Knowledge :Graduates have comprehensive knowledge and understanding of their subject area, the ability to engage with different traditions of thought, and the ability to apply their knowledge in practice including in multi-disciplinary or multi-professional contexts.

Critical and Analytical Thinking :Graduates are effective problems-solvers, able to apply critical, creative and evidence-based thinking to conceive innovative responses to future challenges.

Communication : Graduates convey ideas and information effectively to a range of audiences for a variety of purposes and contribute in a positive and collaborative manner to achieving common goals.

Team Work, Leadership : Graduates engage in professional behaviour and have the potential to be entrepreneurial and take leadership roles in their chosen occupations or careers and communities.

Ethics : Graduates are responsible and effective global citizens whose personal values and practices are consistent with their roles as responsible members of society.

Digital Competencies :Graduates are well prepared for living, learning and working in a digital society.

Life Long Learning: Graduates are self-aware and reflective; they are flexible and resilient and have the capacity to accept and give constructive feedback; they act with integrity and take responsibility for their actions.

Program Outcomes (POs):

Program outcomes: Describe what students are expected to know and would be able to do by the time of graduation. These relate to the skills, knowledge, and behaviors that students acquire as they progress through the program.

Program outcomes basically describe knowledge, skills and behavior of students as they progress through the program as well as by the time of graduation and must reflect all GAs (Graduate Attributes).

Program Specific Outcomes (PSOs):

Program Specific Outcomes are statements that describe what the graduates of a specific program should be able to do.

Course Outcomes (COs):

Statements indicating what a student can do after the successful completion of a course. Every Course leads to some Course Outcomes. The CO statements are defined by considering the course content covered in each module of a course. For every course there may be 5 or 6 COs. The keywords used to define COs are based on Bloom's Taxonomy.

Typically 4-6 CO s should be identified /Course. COs are major domain specific outcomes written using action verbs which are specific, measurable and can be demonstrated by students on completion of the course. Course Outcomes should aim to develop higher order skills in each Domain of Learning. Evaluation, Synthesis, Analysis are typical examples in Cognitive Domain. Outcomes which can be mastered in a significantly lower no. of lessons are likely to be too trivial and more suitable for Unit or Module Outcomes. Attainment of each CO should lead to attainment of one or more PO s.

For the internal assessment & University end semester theory examinations, the paper should be set preferably from question bank. Hence question bank should be prepared.

Also Board of Studies shall prepare a question bank of MCQs from units of all subjects.

Curriculum/syllabus of concerned Generic Open Elective Courses (GOECs), General Interest Courses (GICs), skill courses and Modules shall be prepared by the respective BOS as prescribed in CBCS scheme.

Each BOS shall design SEM for each offered course/subject/paper except for GOEC and Environmental Science.
